

Leading safety technology for Rail Transportation

Active in the area of railway technology around the world, Sécheron SA is a leader in the development and production of electro technical devices.

In order to support our booming business, we are looking for our R&D department an

R&D ENGINEER

Your mission is to:

- Assume the function of technological screening
- Suggest and implement optimal technical solutions
- Conceive, analyze and handle trial development
- Participate in the establishment of technical specifications
- Support the Application Client and Sales in managing technical problems

Your profile includes:

- Primary education in engineering
- Successful experience in a similar position in the railway field
- Good English and French language skills
- Good organizational skills, dynamic and with entrepreneurial spirit

We offer an agreeable working environment in an international company with quality social conditions.

If you feel attracted to sharing our challenges and this job opening corresponds to your profile, please send your application to:

Sécheron SA – Human Resources Department
Rue du Pré-Bouvier 25 - 1217 Meyrin/Geneva
Phone: +41 22 739 41 11

hr_geneva@secheron.com - www.secheron.com

We are looking forward to meeting you!